Robert Adam Breakfront Bookcase

Originally designed by Robert Adam in 1761 and made by John Linnell. The bookcase has a scrolled pediment centred by acanthus spray and flanked with swagged urns with a gadrooned and acanthus carved cornice. The geometric designed glazed doors sit above a mahogany bed with egg and dart carved under-moulding, above a blind fret frieze. Three centre draws below are flanked by three smaller drawers to each side. The deep plinth is carved with acanthus leaf and beading.
