

JONATHAN SAINSBURY

Vardy Bookcase

The Vardy Bookcase is an important George III design architectural library breakfront bookcase, attributed to John Vardy. The upper section has a scrolled pediment decorated with foliate and egg-and-dart carving, issuing swagged garlands. The four glazed doors are divided by acanthus-corbel capped paneled pilasters enclosing adjustable shelves, with lower egg-and-dart mouldings. The bookcase is specialist painted.
