Country House Garden Dining Table

A fine teak country house exterior dining table. The fixed top features half-round ends and a geometric slatwork design, supported by an under-frieze. Four architectural turned columns, united by stretchers and out-turned feet, form the table base. The base can be specialist exterior painted, as in the image, or in an oiled timber finish to match the top. The Country House Garden Dining Table can be made to any size and scale required.
