

Country House Garden Serving Table

A fine teak country house exterior serving table with a rectangular fixed geometric slatwork top, supported by an under-frieze. A pair of architectural turned columns, united by stretchers and out-turned feet, form the base of the table. The base can be specialist exterior painted, as in the image, or in an oiled timber finish to match the top. The Country House Garden Serving Table is designed to be strong for use as a serving table, whilst still retaining its decorative features. The table can be made to any size and scale required.

Bespoke sizing, design adaptations and finishing available.
